THE ACADEMY'S GREATEST DAY!

Rev. James P. Hughes Receives a Magnificent Testimonial

IN HONOR OF HIS LIFE WORK.

Beauty, Learning, Flowers, Music, Eloquence and Enthusiasm Marked the Event As One Long To be Remembered.

BFT., ACADEMY'S BANNER YEAR.

Carlyle once said "a man's life-work is best appreciated after he has passed into nothingness. His actions are reviewed after the dross of his work-a day life is eliminated."

Conditions and theories of philosophers for once were turned topsy turvy Tuesday in this town, for the life-work of the Rev. James P. Hughes, for thirty years the successful principal of the Bellefonte Academy was celebrated in a splendid testimonial to a life given to the training of minds and the education of hundreds, perhaps thousands of his fellow creatures. Music, flowers, eloquence and enthusiasm there were aplenty and to overflowing, while beauty and knowledge, in the form of legions of fair misses and two of our nation's greatest educators graced the occasion with their presence.

If the trite phrase may be used surely never was there such a red-letter day in the checquered yet picturesque career of the school on the Hill. It was not only a eulogy to the life services of Rev. Mr. Hughes; it was the consummation of a work which has trained men for great deeds and made women womanly women.

The fact that Rev. Mr. Hughes, has labored here for thirty long years amid great trials and difficulties to build up what at present is considered one of the finest preparatory schools in this country, was the primary cause of the celebration which made Tuesday a notable occasion for all lovers of the Academy. It was thought best to indicate to him the appreciation and regard that is entertained for him by Bellefontonians and especially the alumni of the Academy, by arranging for a celebration which would eclipse anything of the kind that has been attempted here prior to Tuesday's event. To a man who is nearing the end of the journey and where time and the mile stones of the years creep on apace such a climax to a life of quiet effort which has told in the lives of others, seems a fitting end.

And so it proved.

The occasion was one which was rendered notable, not only by the earnestness to show Pedagogue Hughes that a man's best works can be appreciated in his life-time, but also by the presence of Francis Landey Patton, the great and famous President of Princeton University, and of president George W. Atherton, of Penn. State College, besides a score of lesser lights in the firmament of learning and education.

THE BALL GAME.

The exercises lasted from early morn to early, very early morn, or as one wag expressed it from base-ball to high-ball. At 10 o'clock the last ball game of the season was played between the Bellefonte Academy, the champions of Central Penn. and a strong team of Alumni. The largest audience of the season witnessed the contest which was played on the Meadow Brook park diamond, and enthusiasm was rampant. Pretty girls were there in legion and the diamond was fringed with bright eyes, faces fair to gaze upon and endless yards of ribbon of the Academy's shades of old gold and white.

Perhaps it isn't necessary to state that the ball tossers from the hill won in a walk but it also might be added that the Alumni led by one Curtin gave the school team a big scare in the first two innings. After the balloon work of these innings the Academy settled down and won the game on some hard hitting and A. 1., fielding. Curtin pitched a good game for the Alumni and Umpire Harris also covered himself with full need of praise and glory. The game ended at 12:10 and there was a grand rush homewards to dress and dine preparatory to the exercises in the Presbyterian church.

EXERCISES IN THE CHURCH.

A crush of well gowned women, garbed in their best bib and tucker, with escorts clothed de rigeur filled the auditorium of the Presbyterian church for the exercises of the day which commenced at 2 o'clock. The committee in charge of the church decoration had literally transformed the interior. *G*reat masses of daises, maiden hair ferns and laurel were banked against the choir balcony while American flags of silk were entwined amidst the flowers of the field. A great cluster of superb Easter lillies were placed in a jardiniere before the pulpit. The same effect of Old Gold and White was carried out in the other decorations. Behind a mass of flowers in the choir loft the Stopper & Fisk orchestra rendered several delightful selections during the afternoon. The rendition of Mascagni's Cavelleria Rusticana was exquisite, while the selection from Il Trovatore was encored. Promptly at 2 o'clock the ceremonies were opened by an invocation by the Rev Dr. Laurie. On the pulpit platform were seated in the center, Ellis Orvis Esq., chairman of committee of arrangements and a State College graduate, who presented the different speakers, on his right was seated Dr. Patton and Rev Dr. Hughes; on his left Dr. Atherton and Rev Dr. Laurie.

Mr. Orvis delivered a well-worded address in which he gave a history of the Bellefonte Academy and paid a glowing tribute to Prof. Hughes' labors. He said that "Mr. Hughes is the only instructor with whom I have ever come in contact who could transform the dry page of mathematics into a fairy story to be read and studied with avidity." He also said that the life of the Academy could be divided into two parts: Its existence before M. Hughes' control—and during his principalship. This remark was applauded.

Judge Love, the brilliant leader of the local bar, was then called upon and made a stirring address upon education. He said that he thought education linked with athletics was the best road to succes for "no brilliant mind can be clothed in a weak body." As the representative of the board of trustees he paid an eloquent eulogy to the pedagogue who said "Give me the child when it is eight years of age and I'll put him in the honor division of any university in the land"—and does it.

DR. PATTON'S ADDRESS

Mr. Orvis then introduced "with profound pleasure" Dr. Patton, president of Princeton University. The well known educator arose and for half an hour gave one of his delightful talks upon education. He instantly gained the attention of his audience and held it to the end. Being probably the most brilliant extempore speaker in this county today he notwithstanding refrained from eloquence and made an address which will have the effect of sending many a youth and lass to university and seminary. He divided education into two sections—university and secondary or preparatory. One was linked closely with the other and the second was indispensible to the first. He stated that thoroughness in prepatory work was the essence of success in university life. He referred to the Bellefonte Academy as a school which had done excellent work in preparatory lines and stated that he took great pleasure in attending the reunion. His address was one of those sound, erudite and convincing arguments for the indisputable benefits of education of both divisions, which will have a lasting effect and one most beneficial upon his auditors. Space does not permit giving his address the full report it deserves.

President Patton was followed by J. W. Gephart, Esq, the represent ative of the alumni, who urged that an endowment fund be started to place the Academy in a still higher sphere of usefulness and that the value of Mr. Hughes' services to the omnipotent cause of education be made luminous by the conferment of the honorary degree of Dr. of Laws. He paraphrased the old adage of the boy at one end of the log and the instructor at the other, by saying Mr. Hughes was at one end, the log in the middle and the boy at the other end.

PRESIDENT ATHERTON'S ADDRESS.

President Atherton, of State College, of which the Academy is a feeder for technical courses, ended the speeches with an eloquent address upon Democracy and education. From the stand point of a political economist and educator combined he traced the greatness of this country to the education of the young He said the navy was full of Deweys and Hobsons and that the American nation was entering upon a great destiny,—gone from the small stage of sectionalism to become a tremendous power in international politics.

Rev. Mr. Hughes then arose, looking like a patriarch of old, and in a few brief words thanked the board of trustees, alumni, and Presidents Patton and Atherton for the honors conferred upon him and ended with a simple yet impressive "*G*od bless you all."

This closed the exercises, a brief reception being held for those desiring to meet Dr. Patton.

THE RECEPTION AND DANCE.

Academy Hill was aglow with lights, flowers and the bright smiles of women Tuesday night. A complete transformation had occurred during the past two days. With the buildings newly painted and repapered and the school rooms metamorphosed into delightful reception rooms, one could scarcely recognize the "school." The front of the main building was a mass of old gold and white bunting, with an orange and black and a blue and white pennons floating over the main entrance.

Commencing at 7 o'clock a throng of Academicians of the past and present thronged the campus and main buildings, drank unlimited cups of tea served by fair young misses, and talked over the good old days "when we went to school." The soft strains of Chopin and Rubenstein floated through the air from the instruments of the Stopper & Fisk orchestra, while the Academy boys made the welkin ring with their school yells and cheers.

At 9 o'clock the campus was deserted for the ball in the Armory, which presented a brilliant appearance. The halls and rafters were festooned with red, white and blue bunting and hundreds of yards of old gold and white. The floor was in excellent condition and the joyous devotees of Terpsichore dancing to "music's gay refrain" on the glassy floor, with the fringe of portly well dressed and affable patronesses and their escorts seated in the dozens of cosy nooks and corners of the Armory, made the scene one long to be remembered.

Dancing continued until the wee sma hours and the crowing of the cocks and the first blushes of Aurora were brightening the eastern horizon ere the tired dancers wended homewards.

And so it all ended in a kaleidoscopic mass of changing colors, joy and music and happiness, and the greatest day in the life of the well-beloved instructor seemed but the incipiency of many another year of usefulness in the prettiest town in a long, long summer's walk.

Late Berdel Injured.

Late Berdel, of this place, who has been traveling with Walter L. Main's circus met with a terrible accident at Scranton on June 9th. Berdel was giving an exhibition with a tiger in an open cage during the street parade when suddenly in sight of hundreds of people the ferocious beast sprang upon him.

The tiger fastened its fangs in his thigh, tearing away the flesh to the bone and laying the bone bare. Another attendant hurried up and entering the cage, subdued the animal and rescued Berdel, who was removed to Lackawanna hospital. The young mans recovery is said to be doubtful. George *G*aris of this place, who was with him says that blood poison has set in and that the limb will have to be amputated.

The unfortunate man is a son of *M*rs. Emeline Berdel of this place.

—Dr. A\Hibler who has been ill for the past few days is reported much better. He is threatened with pneumonia.

PINE GROVE ACADEMY.

Held Its Second Annual Reunion on Last Friday.

THE ATTENDANCE WAS LARGE

Gen Beaver Presided and Addresses Made by Rev Charles Aikens, Rev. D. M. Mattern, D. F. Fortney, Esq. and Others.

COMMITTEES WERE APPOINTED

The second annual reunion of the students of the Pine Grove Academy was held Friday in the Aril grove near the town. The day was fine and a large crowd of people gathered for the pleasures of a day with persons who at different times in the history of the school were, or became for a time, a part of the community, while in search of an education which is invaluable and more to be desired than fortune. The attendance was less than it was last year, although many persons were there from distant places.

Interest was intense in all parts of the program which furnished varied exercises at each change. The enjoyment of the day was furnished by the special efforts of the executive committee. Upon the arrival of the train on the Bellefonte Central railroad, on which some of the officers and speakers came, the following program was carried out:

At 11:40 a. m., the president of the organization, Gen. James A. Beaver, gave the call for order. After some preliminary remarks from the chair the first item on the program was called and an anthem was rendered by a selection of voices under the direction of Prof. John A. Weaver; this was followed by an earnest invocation by Rev. Mr. Gemmill, of Allenwood, Pa. The address of welcome, by Rev. Chas. Aikens, of Pine Grove Mills, extended a greeting and the generosity of all the people of the place, and the beautiful valleys near by to all the students whose delight is in the place for what it has been to them, and whose people are glad to welcome back to scenes of youth and fascination those in whom they rejoice and strive to honor. They come back from all vocations and parts of the union, but all the cares and fretfulness of life are buried for a time under the remembrances of the happy struggle made to start right in a life-long career by the benefits of education searched after by all the vigor of untiring youth.

The response to the welcome was made by Rev. D. M. Mattern, whose reminiscences of school life thirty-five or forty-five years ago were but a review of later years when others studied and struggled just as hard and had just as much fun as the brightest and best at their studies and the jolliest in their amusements.

A committee on organization was appointed to name candidates for the ensuing year, the report to be made at 3 p. m. The committee was formed of Rev. Gemmill, Dr. J. E. Ward and W. H. Fry. A song entitled, 'Friends of Long, Long Ago," was sung by Prof. F. E. Meek, of Altoona, which was supplemented by a choral selection. Adjournment till 1:30 p. m. followed the announcement of dinner.

Music opened the afternoon session at 2:15. The remarks of the chair on the present meet and benefit of the Pine Grove academy were wise, appropriate and appreciated. They were preliminary to the announcement of D. F. Fortney, Esq., of Bellefonte, as the first speaker for the afternoon. The address was full of theory and advice on modern education for the foundation of useful and profound learning.

A number of letters of fraternity and regrets of absence had been received by the executive committee from persons whose remembrance of school days recalled the friendships and attachments that do not die, though the dimness of the veil of years almost hides them, until a flash of memory writes them in burning brightness upon the tablet of the present. One of these letters was from H. L. Thompson, D. D. L. L. D., Dayton, O.

Rev. Glenn, of Gettysburg was called, upon to furnish some lost connective links in the history of the school. A poem written by Prof. Ward, set to music by a student, Theopholes Weaver, and sung at the exhibition of the school in the fall of 1852, was read. It follows, and shows that ties of more than friendship were strong as ever through school life:

Festive eve why linger with sorrow?
Gladeome hours with joy that swell.
Schoolmates, ere another morrow,
We must sadly say farewell.

'Tis a sound that makes us falter,
'Tis to kindred hearts a knell;
Loving accents, true, may alter,
Sadly, then, we say farewell.

But in heart, we'll be united,
Nobly striving to excel,
And our youth to wisdom plighted.
Though for aye, we say farewell.

Then when all life's work is over,
And we near our "setting sun,"
May each one hear on yon bright shore
Jesus' welcome, come, well done.

Rev. Gemmill followed this with reminiscences of Academy school life. The persons named in the report of the committee on organization as a list of officers for the ensuing term were elected as recommended. The officers are: President, Gen. James A. Beaver, Bellefonte; Vice Pres., J, Hall Musser, Harrisburg; Sec. and Treas., J. K. Bottorf, Tyrone.

Executive Committee—W. H. Fry, Pine Grove Mills; G. W. Weaver, Miss Kate L. Moser, Altoona; Mrs. D. G. Meek, Pine Grove; Dr. J. E. Ward, Bellefonte; M. J. Watt, Tyrone; G. B. McClelland Meek. Altoona.

Financial Committee—D. F. Fortney, Esq., Bellefonte. Mrs. A. C. Duff, Spruce Creek; A. G. Archey, H. C. Campbell, Andrew Lytle, Pine Grove Mills.

Thanks for the honors conferred upon these persons were returned by Vice Pres. Musser in a complimentary mood. A short address by Mr. Wash Rumbarger, of Bellefonte, was followed by an entertainment by Mr. G. B. Ward and his gramophone.

"Two Hearts That Beat as One." "It is Not Good for Man to Be Alone."

Wednesday June 15, the home of Wilson Williams of Martha was a scene of festivity, for on this day he gave his daughter Minnie into the care of Mr. Jacob *G*inter from Clearfield Co. to have and care for during life.

Many friends of the bride and two sisters of the groom were present to witness the happy union, and at 12 o' clock the two young people appeared before the assembled guests and Rev. White in an impressive voice pronounced them man and wife.

After the ceremony an excellent dinner was served and all seemed to enjoy it.

The friends spent the afternoon in singing and in having a social good time.

The happy pair departed on the evening train for the home of the groom where a reception awaited them.

They hope in the near future to enter a home of their own and we all join in hoping the dream of the poet will be realized, when he sings:

"And now I sit and muse on what may be.
And in my vision see, or seem to see.
Through floating vapors interfused with light.
Shapes intermediate that gleam and fade.
As shadows passing into deeper shade,
Sink and elude the sight."
"For two alone there in the hall,
Is spread the table round and small:
Upon the polished silver shine
The evening lamps, but, more divine,
The light of love shines over all;
Of love that says not mine and thine,
But ours, for ours is thine and mine.
They want no guest to come between
Their tender glances like a screen,
And tell them tales of land and sea,
And whatsoever may betide
The great, forgotten world outside;
They want no guests; they needs must be
Each other's own best company."
—Longfellow, from "The hanging of the crane"

NEWS COMES FROM SAMPSON

Reports Situation at Guantanamo as "Entirely Satisfactory"—Valuable Aid is Being Given the Marines.

BY BRAVE CUBAN INSURGENTS

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Like the news of the beleaguered at Locknow came the welcome news to the navy department this afternoon that the little band of American marines who had planted the flag on Crest Hill and were defending it night and day against heavy odds, were not only safe, but were strongly reinforced by 1,500 Cubans from the commands of Garcia and Rabbi, and were now strong enough to more than hold their own. It was disclosed in a dispatch from Admiral Sampson and brought much relief to the naval officials. The early reports had indicated that they might be compelled to return to the ships before General Shafter's invading army reached there on Friday. The coming of the Cuban forces seems to have been in the nick of time and naval officials give the fullest credit to the timeliness of this Cuban cooperation. The admiral's dispatch stated that the condition of the marines was "entirely satisfactory," which assurance, although brief, was enough to relieve officials here of the fears they had entertained.

But probably the most significant feature of the admiral's dispatch was the statement that the Cuban general, Rabbi, had occupied Acerranderos, only eight miles from Santiago and practically a suburb of that Spanish stronghold. It was the execution of a plan arranged in Washington some weeks ago, when two of the staff officers of General Garcia came here to confer with General Miles. At that time Garcia and Rabbi were at Bayamo, in the western part of Santiago province, and more than 100 miles northwest of Santiago de Cuba. Admiral Sampson's dispatch showed that Rabbi and his force has made a complete circuit of Santiago de Cuba, and, coming up to the south of it, had occupied Acerranderos. This is looked upon as a fine military stroke, for Acerranderos is the port where iron wharves will afford facilities for unloading the heavy artillery carried by General Shafter's invading expedition.

The news also indicated to the authorities here that the Spanish garrison at Santiago has practically retreated inside the city proper, giving up the outlying towns. Admiral Sampson also says that General Garcia is co-operating with the American forces. Whether this means that Garcia himself has arrived from Bayamo is not quiet clear, but if he has the joint forces of Garcia and Rabbi will make 3,000 to 5,000 seasoned Cubans, recently armed with Springfields, as a bushwhacking guerrilla force to aid the American troops. From sources other than the dispatch of Admiral Sampson, the navy department has been informed that 500 Cubans were rendering efficient aid to the marines at Crest Hill. Now that Rabbi and Garcia are on the scene these 500 will be swelled to thousands.

Few men understand women. When a woman is weak, sickly, nervous, fretful, irritable and despondent, the average husband imagines that she is simply out of temper. An average husband will probably simply go out and leave her alone for awhile, "to have it out with herself." A bad husband is liable to go off and get drunk. The fact is that the poor wife is suffering from illness of a description that breaks a woman down sooner than any thing else. Her back is weak and aches. Her "sides stitch." She has pains and a dragging sensation in the abdomen. Her appetite is touchy and she suffers from nausea. She has sick headaches, giddiness, dizziness, cold chills, flushings of heat, shortness of breath, palpitation, disturbed sleep, frightful dreams, irregularities and nervous and trembling sensations. Her pain-racked nerves are a continual torture.

A woman in this condition is suffering from weakness and disease of the delicate and important organs concerned in wifehood and motherhood. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes these organs strong and well. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It has transformed thousands of sickly, nervous, petulant, childless and unhappy women into happy, healthy, helpful, amiable wives and mothers. It banishes the discomforts of the period of prospective maternity and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. Good medicine dealers sell it and an honest druggist does not try to urge upon you an inferior substitute for a little extra profit.

THE KAISER MURDER.

The Trial of James A. Clemmer Becomes Sensational.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., June 16.—The trial of James A. Clemmer, charged with complicity in the murder of Mrs. Charles O. Kaiser, which is now going on before Judge Weand, was full of sensational testimony today. Miss De Kalb again took the stand and told of a plan conceived by Clemmer by which Frank P. Geyer, the Philadelphia detective, was to have been killed. Geyer was working on the case and was hot on Clemmer's trail. Clemmer met Miss De Kalb in Philadelphia and unfolded a plan to her by which she was to lure Geyer into a house. While there Clemmer was to come into the room and strike Geyer with a blackjack or some other instrument and then do away with the body. Miss De Kalb said that Clemmer threatened to kill her if she refused to go into the scheme. She did refuse, however, and the plan fell through.

District Attorney Strassburger submitted a number of letters, written by Clemmer while he was a fugitive, to Miss De Kalb, who was then under arrest in connection with the crime. These letters urged her mouth shut. He also promised to raise money in order that he could engage council and go on the stand in her behalf when her trial came up and prove an alibi for her. The prosecution considers these letters most damaging and say that they alone should convict the prisoner.

Mrs. Cliver, a cook in a Norristown hotel, and C. J. Harold, a justice of the peace, were called as witnesses and told of having seen Clemmer and Miss De Kalb together on the day of the murder.

During the afternoon session a number of witnesses gave testimony regarding footprints about the scene of the murder, and the hearing of the murder and the hearing of screams following the firing of two shots. Testimony was also given which showed that life insurance policies aggregating $10,000 had been taken out on Mrs. Kaiser's life. Ex-Mayor William B. Smith, of Philadelphia, testified that Clemmer was the agent through which a joint policy for $5,000 had been taken out in favor of Kaiser and his wife.

Court then adjourned for the day.

Choosing Good Mutton.

There is no more nutritious and healthful meat than young, healthy mutton, well cooked. Mutton, like all meat, is tough when first killed and should be hung long enough to grow tender. Good mutton should have an abundance of firm, white fat, but not an overfat appearance. sheep off of the great ranges have dark colored meat like that of wild animals, while those which do less running have meat of a lighter color.

PORTO RICO MUST FALL

Preparations for the Second Army of Invasion.

GEN. MILES AT WASHINGTON

He Consults With the President and Secretary Alger on That and other Subjects Connected With the Campaign —20,000 Troops Will Compose the Expedition.

GOOD WORDS FOR CUBAN ALLIES

Washington, June 17.—Gen. Miles returned to Washington to-day to consult with the President and Secretary Alger upon questions connected with the invasion of Santiago and the expedition to Porto Rico. His views will also be asked concerning the investment of Havana, and whether it is wise to undertake that before the rainy season has ended.

The War department expects to utilize approximately 35 transports in the expedition for the invasion of Porto Rico. This indicates that the Porto Rico army will equal if not exceed in numbers that which left for Santiago. The estimate is made that the 35 vessels will carry between 15,000 and 20,000 men, with their equipments and subsistence. Army officials say that the number of Spanish soldiers in Porto Rico is probably 10,000. It is fair to assume that when the United States army commences active operations against the city of San Juan every available man in that place will be impressed into the military service and given a gun. Hence, the army of invasion should be of such proportions as to leave no doubt of its ability to cope successfully with the enemy. It is stated positively that the embarkation point for the troops for Porto Rico has not yet been finally determined, and will not be until Secretary Alger and the President have conferred with Gen. Miles. There is no doubt, however, that this embarkation will take place from some point on the Atlantic coast, with a probability in favor of Fernandina, Fla., or Savannah, Ga. The new camp to be established at Fernandina will be, in the first place, a rendezvous for those regiments at Chickamauga and elsewhere that have been ordered to receive their full equipment.

The officials will not hazard an opinion as to when Gen Shafter's army should arrive at Santiago, but they seem to expect important news within 24 or 36 hours. They are confident Sampson will have established cable connection within that time, so that news of the arrival of the American transports off Santiago should not be longer delayed than the time required for a dispatch boat to make the run of 40 miles eastward along the coast to the shores of Guantanamo harbor, where the cable will be working under the protection of Col. Huntingdon's marines.

The President has watched keenly the work of the little band of marines on the crest of Calmanera hill, surmounting the harbor of Guantanamo, and to day expressed the opinion that they had made a record far beyond his expectations. He called especial attention to the disadvantages under which they had fought, and added that under these circumstances he could not but pay high tribute to the valor and efficiency of the marines.

The work of the Cubans in reinforcing the marines at Guantanamo and in occupying Acerraderos is receiving praise from officials here. Secretary Quesada, of the Cuban delegation, said to-day that the Cubans had not seen fit to reply to criticism as to the ineffectiveness of the Cuban soldiers, as they knew the criticisms were due to an ignorance of the careful plans, largely matured at Washington, by which the Cuban forces were to execute their part of the program.

Priceless Pain

"If a price can be placed on pain, 'Mother's Friend' is worth its weight in gold as an alleviator. My wife suffered more in ten minutes with either of her other two children than she did altogether with her last, having previously used four bottles of 'Mother's Friend.' It is a blessing to any one expecting to become a mother," says a customer.

Thus writes Henderson Dale, Druggist, of Carmi, Ill., to the Bradfield Regulator Company, of Atlanta, Ga., the proprietors and manufacturers of "Mother's Friend." This successful remedy is not one of the many internal medicines advertised to do unreasonable things, but a scientifically prepared liniment especially effective in adding strength and elasticity to those parts of woman's organism which bear the severest strains of childbirth.

The liniment may be used at any and all times during pregnancy up to the very hour of confinement. The earlier it is begun, and the longer used, the more perfect will be the result, but it has been used during the last month only with great benefit and success.

It not only shortens labor and lessens the pain attending it, but greatly diminishes the danger to life of both mother and child, and leaves the mother in a condition more favorable to speedy recovery.

"Mother's Friend" is sold by druggists at $1.00, or sent by express on receipt of price.

Allen, to whom letters were granted one week later, the value of the estate left by the decedent being less than $200. since then, however, a petition was presented to the Register by Emma V. Reiss, claiming to be the lawful widow of the deceased, and asking that a citation be granted against Philip A. Allen to show cause why the letters granted to him should not be revoked and the same granted to her. In her petition Emma V. Reiss claims that she is the lawful widow of Rudolph W. Reiss, "and also the mother of four children still living of the deceased, and who are with her, and that said letters of administration were taken out by the said Philip A. Allen without notice to your petitioner." It was stated by the attorney representing the administrator that the woman calling herself Emma V. Reiss was never married to the decedent, and that upwards of twenty years ago she, in consideration of a certain sum of money, signed a document releasing all claims against Mr. Reiss. The document is still in existence and will be produced in evidence at the hearing before the Register next Tuesday.

Dutch Nobleman Enlists.

Count Eugene A. Van Waldek, a Dutch nobleman, enlisted at the recruiting station in Cleveland recently as a private in the regular army. He is 25 years old and a member of a distinguished family. He served as sergeant major in the Dutch army and then went to Germany and entered the military service, with the rank of first lieutenant His commission expired on April 14, and he at once set sail for America to enlist his fortunes with the stars and stripes He arrived in Canada a few days ago and came direct to Cleveland

"Spain has done more wrong to my country than to the United States," said Count Van Waldek, "and I want to avenge my ancestors for the 30 years war carried on against them by the Spaniards. When the war is over, I can return home and have the honor among my associates of having fought for freedom under another flag. I do not desire to have my rank known in the American army. Before I had enlisted I was subjected to an insult by one of the new recruits, and if I had been in my native land I would have challenged him to a duel, but you do things differently in the United States.

GETTING READY.

Chairman Garman Issues His Official Notice.

SPEAKS OF THE PLATFORM

The Outlook is That it Will be a "Middle of the Road" Declaration and Not Intended to Hurt Friend or Foe.

THE MEETING WILL BE EARNEST

HARRISBURG, June 17.—Chairman John M, Garman, of the democratic state committee, issued the following call for the state convention from democratic headquarters here last night:

"In accordance with the instruction of the democratic state central committee, the democratic state convention is called to meet at the Eleventh Avenue opera house, in the city of Altoona, on Wednesday, June 29, 1898, at 12 o'clock noon, to nominate candidates for the following offices:

"Governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of internal affairs, judge of the superior court, and two congressmen-at-large, and to attend to such other business as may come before the convention.

"Delegates upon their arrival in the city, will probably report at headquarters at the Logan house."

PHILADELPHIA, June 17,—Chairman M. Garman, of the democratic state committee, came up from Atlantic City to Philadelphia Thursday accompanied by Chairman Howley, of the Allegheny county committee, and later in the day met and discussed subjects concerning the approaching convention with local leaders of the party. While refraining from expressing any precise opinion regarding the make up of the platform or the election of the candidates, Mr. Garman's remarks would lead to the inference that every effort will be made to unite the party on an all-around acceptable platform.

"From what I can gather," said Mr. Garman, "there is a clearly defined disposition to frame and adopt a platform at the Altoona convention, upon which all good democrats and all good people can stand. There will not be any humiliating surrender of party principles, but neither will there be, I imagine, any declarations that will drive good citizens away from the support of the ticket. The gist of sentiment appears to point in the direction of bridging past differences and mutual forgiveness and forgetfulness of any irritating elements that have kept the party asunder."

"Do you expect the convention will be a quiet one?" Mr. Garman was asked.

"Where there will be so many hustling candidates for places on the ticket," he replied, "there will necessarily be greater or less activity and energy displayed. But I do not anticipate that there will be anything else than a becoming and dignified convention. Besides, as I have already said, there seems to be a general disposition to have the platform made broad enough for every reputable class of citizens in the commonwealth. I expect a numerously attended convention—a big convention. In every section of the state the greatest interest appears to be taken in the Altoona gathering, and I have every reason to believe that the attendance of democrats generally, outside of the delegates, will be unusually and remarkably large."

Chairman Garman left last evening for Harrisburg. With Mr. Howley he will go to Pittsburg today for a brief visit.

Scene in Portugal at the Rio Porto Vineyards.

CARRYING THE PORT GRAPES TO THE WINERY, ON THE HEADS OF MEN AND WOMEN, NEAR THE VALLE DE MENETIZ WHERE THEY ARE DUMPED IN THE MASHING VATS TO BE TRODDEN FOR PORT WINE.

The rugged hills with projecting rocks of brown stone and shale containing a large quantity of iron, make it impossible to use wagons here hence the grapes have to be carried to the treading vat or larger as they are called, and some are large enough for twenty persons to tread, which they do dancing to music furnished by the proprietor.

ALFRED SPEER,

the Pioneer wine grower of New Jersey whose Port Grape wine and Burgandy rivals the world, imported the Port Grape vines many years ago, and planted vineyards in the Passaic Valley N. J. The soil in Passaic county, New Jersey, is identical to that of de'Menetiz.

Speer's New Jersey Vineyards are situated in the Passaic valley below the mountain range and the grapes are carted to the winery in the town of Passaic where they are mashed between rollers made of rubber, which do not break the seeds, and made into wine.

These grand wines of Speer's that have mellowed in flavor in the course of years of ripening, are the choicest wines in this country and can only be obtained by paying a price that is higher than new wines from western vineyards. Mr. Speer deems it necessary for a healthy wine that it be allowed years to mature in wood to get rid of its coarse parts; with this object he keeps his wines several years in fumigated cellars and frequently racks before bottling or offering for sale. The reputation of Speer's wines as a valuable medicinal and family wine extends around the world.

Saved from the Surgeon's Knife

No organs are of greater importance to the human body than the Kidneys. Their duty is to sift and strain the poisonous and waste matter from the blood, and if they fail to do this, the trouble shows in the nervous system, and even in the brain. Your life is at stake when there are pains in the small of your back—when you are compelled to get up at night to urinate—when the passing of water causes scalding pain—when there is a sediment in the urine in the vessel, or when it appears white or milky. When so afflicted, you can conquer the trouble with Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, the greatest medicine that civilization has ever known for curing Kidney, Bladder, Blood and Liver Diseases.

James Lettice, of Canajoharie, N. Y., tells of his wonderful cure: "Some years ago I was attacked with pains in my back and sides that were fearful. I could not control my kidneys, and what came from me was filled with mucus and blood. An Albany doctor was to perform an operation upon me, and said my home doctor could take care of me after. I saw an advertisement of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, which seemed to fit my case, so I decided to try that before I submitted to the operation. I began its use. When I had taken about two bottles the flow from the bladder grew cleaner, and the pain stopped, and in a short time I was saved from the surgeon's knife, and am now well."

Favorite Remedy also cures Eczema, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia and Constipation. For Female Troubles it is unequaled. It is sold for $1.00 a bottle at all drug stores.

Sample Bottle Free! In order that sufferers may be convinced of the curative virtues of Favorite Remedy, a free sample bottle will be sent, prepaid, to those who send their full postoffice address to the DR. DAVID KENNEDY CORPORATION, Rondout, N. Y. It is necessary to say that you saw the advertisement in this paper if you wish to take advantage of this genuine and liberal offer. Send today.

AN APPEAL TO CLERGYMENS.

The Following Appeal has Been Sent to Every Clergyman in this State.

PHILADELPHIA, June 9, 1898.

TO THE REVEREND.

DEAR SIR:—The Associated Society of the Red Cross of this city and State, is making strenuous efforts to equip an ambulance corps and field hospital, to send it to the front immediately and to maintain it.

To carry out its plans successfully large expenditure of money will be necessary. The people are responding generously to the appeal, but the contributions are not commensurate with the undertaking.

The Society must act speedily in he matter. The urgent need for its services in this line is undisputed. An opportunity is presented you to ameliorate the miseries and sufferings of those tossing in the delirium of fever in tropical islands or wounded on the field of battle.

To whom should we appeal, if not to the Christian church,—the source and stimulus of all great philanthropic movements?

We beg most earnestly that you will take a special offering for this work on Sunday, June 19.

The Red Cross Society (organized under the Articles of the Geneva Treaty of 1864, which afterwards was ratified by all civilized nations) "devoted to those humane and merciful ministrations, deserves the hearty co-operation and aid of all good citizens who estimate at their just value, the patriotism and devotion of those who fight in their country's cause." Its efforts are "for the alleviation of the horrors of battle and for the relief and comfort of those who must die."

Because of its international character, the flag of the Red Cross Society is exempt from attack and its goods from confiscation. Terrible would be the calamity that would fall upon a nation violating the provisions of the Geneva Treaty. Because of its magnificent organization and years of experience, it is exceptionally competent to utilize supplies and funds without waste; and because of recognition by our Government, it has unsual opportunity for thoroughly effective work with our troops.

The Society does not so much ask large sums from individuals as it does eagerly beg smaller contributions from many.

If you will help to supply our needs by presenting this cause to your congregation on June 19 the Society will feel very grateful for this concession and favor.

If you can consider this request favorably, kindly send the offerings to the Headquarters of the Red Cross Society, addressed to Frysinger Evans, Treasurer for the Fund, 1501 Chestnut Street.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM CLARE ALLISON,
FRYSINGER EVANS,
Chairman & Sec'y of Committe.

PENNSYLVANIA Y. M. C. A. Tent,
Camp Alger, Falls Church, Va.,
June 15th, 1898.

Mr. Editor.

It may not be generally known the extent to which the Young Men's Christian Association is occupying the field among the volunteer army of the United States, now mobilized at the various state headquarters, and especially at the three large national camps; viz: Chickamauga, Tampa, and Camp Alger, Virginia.

At the above named camps extensive outlay in practical appliances most needed and appreciated by the soldiers has been made by the Young Men's Christian Association, State and National.

An idea of the work in general may be obtained from a synopsis of the work in one of these representative fields,—Camp Alger.

There are now erected at eight strategic points, suitable tentage for adequately carrying forward the plans made by the Association for the elevation of the 22,000 or more volunteers from at least twelve different states. Other tents will be erected as men and means can be secured.

Of these 22,000 men at Camp Alger, four regiments came from Pennsylvania. These have been followed by the State Association, which has furnished tents, outfits, and men for the aggressive carring forward of all interests most dear to the men in the field, and the friends in the home places. It might be said at this juncture that Pennsylvania is the only state thus far that is represented here in this special work for its own men. The other seven tents are directly under the supervision of the International Committee. We also have one tent at Chickamauga. These facts regarding our own State Committee should stimulate exceeding loyalty on their behalf in every town and hamlet in our great Commonwealth, and funds adequate to prosecute this work should not for a moment be lacking.

The work during the last eight days since beginning operation on the field at this point, shows the following interesting data, which has been accurately kept: total attendance at the tent for all purposes 7701, average daily visits 962. Gospel meetings have had an attendance of 1082, average 146. Thirty two men have indicated a desire to enter the Christian life and a large number of these have come out clear and strong. Three thousand and thirty letters have been written, or a daily average of 428. Forty two men are enrolled in our Bible class.

Aside from these statistics our tent has been a constant rendezvous for men using some dozen games scores of magazines, and daily papers from the principal cities of the East and of our own State. We are headquarters for ice to reduce the temperature in the healthy man, also in those who are suffering from burning fever in the various hospitals. This has been greatly appreciated.

The co-operation and prayers of the Christian public are craved in order that this work, so auspiciously begun, and presenting such unparalleled opportunities, may grow in efficiency until every man now enlisted in the army of the country may have clearly presented to him the claims of Jesus Christ upon his life.

Yours faithfully,
J. B. CARRUTHERS,
JNO. R. RIEBE,
S. E. BATEMAN,
Secretaries in Charge.

WILL FIRE ON FLAG OF TRUCE!

Blanco Notifies Americans Not to Come After Lieutenant Hobson Again.

AND AUGUSTI IS BOTTLED UP

Has Withdrawn Completely Within The Defenses of Manila—Is Cut Off From Madrid.

THAT GREAT CADIZ FLEET HOME AGAIN.

MADRID, June 20.—7 a. m.—A private dispatch received here from New York says General Shafter's expedition has landed near Santiago de Cuba and will attack the town immediately.

HONG KONG, June 20—The British steamer Yuen Sang, which arrived from Manila June 14, reports that on leaving Manila the Yuen Sang sighted a number of vessels believed to be American transports,

A railway director, who went out on the line on a locomotive, was fired on by insurgents at the barracks four kilometres outside of Manila. The Yuen Sang also reports that the railroad station is being fortified. The Spaniards, it is said, are demoralized and it was expected when the steamer left that they would retire to the citidel by the 16th.

LONDON, June 20.—The Hong Kong correspondent of the Times says: "The rebels hold Manila at their mercy," but Admiral Dewey is anxious that the American troops should have the honor of receiving the Spanish capitulation. The steamer Yuen Sang reports passing the United States troop ship, City of Peking, on the morning of the 15th near Manila.

PARIS, June 20.—The Madrid correspondent of the Temps says that it is reported there that Manila has capitulated, though the ministers have not received any news to that effect.

The correspondent also says that Senor Romero Giron, the minister of colonies, states that if Gov. Gen. Augusti has made over his power to Gen, Sanderes to govern Manila, Gen. Sanderes will attempt a sortie.

According to the same authority the Spanish consuls at Hong Kong, Shanghai and Singapore have been ordered to organize at any cost the most rapid communication with the portions of the archipelago still under Spanish authority.

MADRID, June 20.—Capt. Aunon, the minister of marine, who arrived at Carthagena Saturday and inspected the ironclad Lepanto, reports that the Lepanto and the cruisers Cardinal Cisneros and Princess De Asturias will be ready for sea in a month.

It is confidently believed here that Admiral Camara's fleet is going to Manila, and that this may prevent the dispatch of American troops there and at least postpone the loss of the Philippine Islands.

KEY WEST FLA., June 21.—It is learned from naval officers here that Capt. Gen. Blanco has notified the American blockading fleet that he will hereafter recognize no flag of truce, adding that every vessel within six miles' range will be fired upon whether flying the Stars and Stripes or a white flag.

It seems that events which led up to Gen. Blanco's letter began with the sending of the Maple, under charge of Capt. Ludlow of the monitor Terror to open negotiations for the exchange of Lieut. Hobson and other Merrimac prisoners.

Gen. Blanco's letter was addressed to the monitors captain. After refusing to negotiate for the exchange of the prisoners, he delivered the ultimatum as to boats with flags of truce.

A government vessel which arrived here this morning reports that Morro castle keeps firing heavy shells at the squadrons, and it is not believed such accurate shots can be fired by Spanish gunners. On Friday a 12-inch shell exploded dangerously close to one of the American warships, raising a column of water and smoke over 100 feet high.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21.—Word went around the war department this afternoon that the Cadiz fleet had made another spectacular appearance, this time returning to the home port. The source of information is not disclosed, so that it is impossible to tell how much credence to attach to the report. The navy department was promptly informed of the receipt of the message.

HONG KONG, June 21.—According to advices from Manila, dated June 17. it was reported there then that Gen. Nonet, coming southward with 3,000 mixed troops from Balacan, thirty miles north of Manila, found the railway line blocked and was taken by ambush by the insurgents. Fierce fighting ensued and was carried on for three days, during which Gen. Nonet was killed. The native troops joined the insurgents and the Spaniards who were left, about 500, surrendered.

A battalion at Pampanga, of native militia, supposed to be particularly loyal, began shooting its officers and killed five when the insurgents attacked Marabon. The Spanish succeeded in disarming and imprisoning a portion of them, but they escaped when the insurgents captured Marabon.

At Zapote also a whole regiment revolted at a critical moment. The authorities still use mixed forces, with the result that insurgent riflemen are frequently found to have passed the sentries and to be creeping along under cover and firing upon the Spaniards from behind.

The correspondent of the Associated Press pays a daily visit to the outposts at Tondo, Santa Tesa, Santa Ana and Malate, but there is no perceptile movement, though there is constant firing, which is for the most part ineffective. Nothing is visible among the trees. The insurgents who fire sparingly, draw abundant Spanish volleys, especially at night. The Spaniards incessantly squander tons of ammunition into the shadows of the thicket, apparently in the hope of quickly exhausting their stock and being in a position to surrender honorably, after a hopeless fight.

More Records Smashed.

BOSTON June 18.—Worlds bicycle records once again went by the board from the ninth to the thirtieth mile yesterday, when Eddy McDuffee easily defeated Major Taylor, of Brooklyn, at the Charles River park in a paced thirty mile race. From the start to about the fifteenth mile it was a hot event, but after that time Taylor did not show up as well against the great work of McDuffee, nevertheless the gamey colored lad broke nearly all his own records for many of the short distances. The weather conditions were well nigh perfect for the race. McDuffee's first mile in 1:51 4-5 showed him only a little in the lead. The defeated man was game to the last. McDuffee's miles after the sixteenth were at a 1:56 clip.

The time at different distances was as follows:

Five miles, 8:49 3-5; ten miles, 17:49 4-5; fifteen miles, 26:51; twenyt miles, 36:18; twenty-five miles, 45:33; thirty miles, 55:09 1-5.

Would you experiment on it?

Read this case:

Mr. W. E. Haines, No. 1 Beaver Row, Locomotive Engineer, says:
"I am in a position to highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Last spring I was suffering from an acute lameness in my back, and a dull, lingering aching over my kidneys. I felt it in my head also and there were pains over my eyes and in the top and back of my head and in the upper part of my spine. I was afraid I would not be able to attend to my duties as I was on night work and had to get my rest in day time, for on account of my back and these pains I could not rest well. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and obtained them from the Bush House Block drug store. They proved to be just the remedy I required and they removed the whole trouble. They left me bright and sound and I have had no return of the trouble since.

A FATAL WRECK!

On the Central Railroad of New Jersey.

EASTON, Pa., June 20.—The passenger train on the Central Railroad of New Jersey, due here shortly after 6 o'clock Sunday evening, was wrecked six miles above Mauch Chunk at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon and the engineer, Richard McHale, of Easton, and the news agent, Charles Ebner, of South Easton, were killed. Wilfred Yeomans, the fireman, and Charles Taylor, the baggagemaster, both of Easton, were very badly hurt.

The train was east bound and while rounding a curve at a lively rate the rails spread and the engine, baggage car and smoker left the track. The remaining three cars of the train stopped before they reached the broken rails. The engine plowed into the embankment. McHale remained at the throttle and was frightfully crushed between the engine and the embankment. He died in a few moments. Yeoman was cut about the head and body, but it is believed he will recover.

The baggage car was smashed to splinters and the roof and other portions of it flew up on the embankment along which runs the Lehigh Valley track and struck a moving passenger train on that road. The Lehigh Valley train was, however, not damaged.

Ebner and Taylor were conversing in the baggage car when the crash came. The former was cut and bruised and his legs were both broken and mangled. He died at Mauch Chunk, where he was taken. Taylor's breast is bruised and he is believed to be internally injured. He is in the Easton hospital.

The smoker tumbled into the Lehigh river. There were about a dozen passengers in the car, but all escaped. Some were painfully cut and bruised and all are suffering from the shock. McHale leaves a large family of children. Ebner was married only a few months ago.

A Story of the Present War.

A love story begins in the July number of that unique magazine What To Eat, the hero of which is one of our own boys, serving in one of the companies from our own state, and the story is understood to be written by a member of one of our regiments now at the front, and to be founded on actual fact.

"A Summer Entertainment," "Ideal Luncheons for Brides and Old Ladies," "A Spanish-American Card Party," "Afternoon Teas," "How to Buy Rugs," a funny frontis, piece showing the effect of "A dollar fifty wheat," etc., are all enclosed in a cover of brilliant colors, representing a promenade of the Strawberry and the Cream Jug. Baby's Smooth, Fair Skin

Is Due to Hood's Sarsaparilla—It Cured Him of Dreadful Scrofulous Sores—Now in Good Health.

"At the age of two months, my baby began to have sores break out on his right cheek. We used all the local external applications that we could think or hear of, to no avail. The sores spread all over one side of his face. We consulted a physician and tried his medicine, and in a week the sore was gone. But to my surprise in two weeks more another scrofulous looking sore made its appearance on his arm. It grew worse and worse, and when he was three months old, I began giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla. I also took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before the first bottle was finished, the sores were well and have never returned. He is now four years old, but he has never had any sign of those scrofulous sores since he was cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, for which I feel very grateful. My boy owes his good health and smooth, fair skin to this great medicine." MRS. S. S. WORTEN, Farmington, Delaware.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. $1, six for $5. Be sure to get Hood's.

In the town of St. Gall, Switzerland, nine tenths of the Swisses handled by the world's trade are manufactured.

We received a short time ago a large shipment of these Swisses, but reserved them for the opening of our new store.

They are of the snowiest texture with beautiful designs of scrolls and ribbons and those pretty little dots that are so popular.

For the party dress, either of itself or over shades of taffeta, it is very rich. For the graduating dress it is simplicity and neatness combined.

The prices we have put on these goods are a third and more less than the prices asked by other houses.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 20, 1898.

No person in Washington received the news that Gen. Shafter,s army was on Cuban soil with more pleasure than did President McKinley. It is not a large army, but it is large enough to accomplish the purpose for which it was sent; the men are splendidly equipped and are all eager to distinguish themselves. It will require several days for Gen. Shafter to take up a position from which aggressive operations against Santiago can be started, but it is confidently expected that news of a crushing and decisive blow being administered to the Spaniards will be received during the present week. There isn't the slightest doubt in any quarter that Shafter will give the Spaniards a drubbing that they will remember as soon as he can get at them.

While neither the President nor any of his advisers believe that the Spanish fleet which left Cadiz several days ago will dare to come to Cuban waters, its starting will hasten the capture of Porto Rico. No chances, are to be taken. If that Spanish fleet should cross the Atlantic it would naturally endeaver to make Porto Rico its base of operations but, unless something now unforeseen shall prevent the carrying out of present plans, Porto Rico will be in our possession before the Spanish fleet can possible arrive there. In this connection it may be well to state that the steamship companies which own vessels suitable for the transportation of troops are responsible for any delay that may occur. They are playing hog with the government by refusing to charter their vessels to carry troops, because they wish to sell them to the government at fancy prices. The government can, of course, impress the vessels, leaving the compensation of their owners to be settled hereafter, but up to this time the President has not been disposed to resort to that method of obtaining ships, but it may yet become necessary for him to do so,

The contest over the adoption of the joint resolution for the annexation of Hawaii, which went through the House last week by more than a two-thirds vote, is now on in the Senate. How long it will last depends largely upon the endurance of the Senators—less than thirty in number—who have started out, not to defeat the resolution by a direc vote, but to prevent a vote at this session of Congress. There can be but one end—a vote and the adoption of the resolution. The Senate could not adjourn without voting on this resolution, even if a majority of its members desired to do so. No adjournment can take place without the consent of the House, and the votes of 209 Representatives for the annexation resolution was a notice served on the Senate that adjournment without action would never be consented to by the House. In order to make the work of the anti's as hard as possible, it has been decided that the friends of annexation shall allow the other fellows to do all the talking.

Although the subscriptions for the war bonds to be issued are already largely in excess of the amount of the first issue—$200,000,000—one bank offering to take half of them at a premium of 1 per cent—there is no reason for any small investor to withhold his subscription for fear that he will not get the bonds. Those who desire $500 or less will get them first, and it will take lots of these small subscribers to absorb the entire issue. So any of your readers who desire small amounts of these bonds at par may forward their subscriptions, on blanks to be obtained at any express or money order Postoffice, with cofidence that they will get the bonds.

The third expedition will leave San Francisco for Manila this week, and will be accompanied by Gen. Merritt. It is not probable that another expedition will be sent until some of the ships that carried the first troops return, as there are no more ships to be had on the Pacific. It is believed that the first Philippine expedition has arrived at Manila. As soon as official news of its arrival is received President McKinley intends to issue a proclamation declaring the establishment of a military government over the Philippine Islands. Not the slightest apprehension exists in Washington concern in the attitude of Germany towards our occupation of the Philippines, notwithstanding persistent reiteration in cable news of hostile intention on the part of Germany. There is not the slightest foundation for the sensational story telegraphed from Washington of friction between Gen. Miles and Secretary Alger on account of the conduct of the war. Gen. Miles returned to Washington because that was his intention from the first and because President McKinley and Secretary Alger wished to consult with him, and they are working together harmoniously, as they have been from the beginning of the war. Gen. Miles is now arranging the final plans for the invasion of Porto Rico, of which he has decided to take personal command.

The services which consisted of recitations, songs, and the exercises were grand in the extreme. The general verdict of the people was that nothing ever musical or literary had ever been rendered before to excel it. The children who preformed their parts to perfection, were carefully and ably drilled by Mrs. Dr. Hensyl, in the church, and the little ones who crowned themselves with laurels deserve special praise. ANNEX HAWAII.

Just why the acquisition of the Hawaiian islands should be made a political issue, is not apparent to the average observer of current events. Democrats as well as Republicans have cut loose from the traditional policies of the Nation. Both parties are responsible for the revision of the Monroe doctrine permitting the Government to terminate Spanish sovereignty over Cuba; both are in favor of the new policy of territorial expansion looking to the ownership of the Philippines and Porto Rico. Still the Democratic members of Congress have decided to oppose the Republican plan of annexing Hawaii, a course so inconsistent with their attitude on similar questions as to need explanation—especially since the Sandwich islands will cost us nothing. There must be a "nigger in the wood-pile" somewhere.

If the United States is going to retain the Philippines, it must have Hawaii. Possession of the former is secured only by the control of the latter which is also security for the Pacific coast. There is no question about this in the minds of our army and navy officers. Present experiences demonstrate the necessity, and future experiences in governing and guarding the Spanish islands, are going to repeat the demonstration; for, even if we should want to do so we cannot easily release our hold upon them, and, never by the consent of the people who are giving service and money to promote this war. Public sentiment is an important factor in the politics of this republic. The annexation question having been reduced to politics; the party responsibile will have to reckon with the people.

But the members of Congress, Democratic or Republican, who oppose annexation do not represent the large majority of their constituents. This is a fact evidenced by the utterances of the political press on this question, by the platforms of State and county conventions, and by the votes of the people themselves—a fact, to, fully understood by the Congressmen who oppose and who to be re-elected will have in the end to promise their constituents not to oppose new national policies of any kind, just as to be elected they had to give their word to solve the Cuban problem. Such a reckoning between congressmen and their constituents ought not to be necessary. Grit hopes it will not be made so by the action of this Congress on the measure before it, which looks to the immediate annexation of the Hawaiian islands.—Grit.

ALL ANXIETY!

General Shafter Has Not Yet Arrived at Santiago.

CUBAN INSURGENTS ARE ACTIVE

Are Gradually Drawing a Cordon Around the City—General Garcia is Enthusiastic and Says the Spaniards Are Starving.

VESSELS SAID TO HAVE BEEN SEEN

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Jamaica, June 21.—The United States troops under General Shafter have not yet arrived. The delay is inexplicable. According to the latest information in possession of Admiral Sampson, the transports sailed last Wednesday, June 15, and they should have reached there Monday morning. Valuable time and favorable weather are lost by the delay. Though it is blisteringly hot, there has been no rain since the marines landed. The Cuban officers say, however, that in this mountainous section of the southern forest the heavy rain has practically ceased until the end of July.

The Cubans are extremely active and a cordon has been drawn around Santiago de Cuba. General Garcia with four thousand troops, coming by forced marches from Banes, is now nearing Santiago. His troops are within forty miles of the city. He left 3,000 men at Holguin to prevent the Spaniards there affecting a juncture wish General Toral at Santiago. The Spanish troops at Guantanamo, under General Masso, are also cut off from General Toral and are badly pinched for food. They wildly appealed for provisions and reinforcements, but the only reply they got was that both were impossible. General Masso said his men were even then at half rations and that the supply was only sufficient to last during the present month.

General Garcia and his personal staff were picked up at General Robi's camp, eighteen miles west of Santiago, and brought to the flagship Monday afternoon by the gunboat Vixen. There the grizzled and wounded patriot had a long consultation with Admiral Sampson regarding the operations for the investment of Santiago and the cooperation of the American and Cuban troops.

General Garcia is very enthusiastic; He says the Spaniards are starving and cannot hold out long, and that the war in the island will end in a few months.

Two regiments of troops will be landed at Guantanamo bay, which will be held as a base until Santiago falls. There has been no sign of Spanish troops in the neighborhood of Camp McCalla for several days. It is estimated that over 300 have been killed or wounded since the landing. Fifty-eight bodies were found. The Spaniards seem satisfied that they cannot dislodge the Americans and have withdrawn.

The upper bay is to be occupied immediately. Lieutenant Delehanty with an expedition, is nightly at work removing mines from the river connecting the upper and lower bays. When this is clear the ships will move up the channel and take the town of Caimanera, whose forts were demolished last Friday.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, June 20—2 P. M.—The British steamer Ethelwold arrived at Port Antonio and reported passing Sunday evening near Cape Maysi, the extreme eastern point of Cuba, an American gunboat, an auxiliary cruiser, two transports and a schooner in tow. Later she passed another steamer with troops on board. The Ethelwold was stopped by a gunboat with a blank shot and was questioned as to her identity.

"Peace" in Philadelphia.

They dwelt in Independence Hall,
But they dwelt there in vain,
For they were weaklings one and all,
And they forgot the Maine,
And from that storied inner wall
They swung the flag of Spain.

They deemed because the land was free
That traitors might defame—
They prated rank disloyalty
In freedom's sacred name.
They sent a message o'er the sea
That brings the blush of shame.

And one was leader of the band,
And Love the name he bore,
And many a driveling scheme he planned
On that historic floor.
Than indignation took a hand
And Love dwelt there no more.

No more in Independence Hall
Do weaklings bide in vain,
No longer from that storied wall
Doth swing the flag of Spain.
No more, I grant you, one and all,
Will they forget the Maine.

THE CLOSING EXERCISES.

At the Pennsylvania State College on Wednesday June 15.

THERE WAS A LARGE ATTENDANCE

Annual Address to Graduates by Hon. John Stewart, of Chambersburg—There are Two Bellefonte Boys Among the Honor Men.

CHAS. ALVIN BROWN'S VALEDICTORY

Wednesday June 15 marked the closing exercise of the 38 annual commencement of the Pennsylvania State College. Fair weather smiled on the class of '98 seeming to bid them Godspeed on their journey of life.

Promptly at 10 o'clock the faculty headed by the honored president George W. Atherton and accompanied by General Beaver and the commencement orator of the day, Hon. John Stewart, of Chambersburg took their positions on the stage. Next the college cry of the class of '98 could be heard in the distance and soon the banner class in the history of the P. S. C. marched in forty four strong with the beautiful stars and strips flying at the head of the procession while the orchestra played patriotic airs.

President Atherton presided and called on Rev. D.O. *D*eniston of State College to pronounce the invocation.

The president then introduced the first speaker Frank Troxel Beers of Emporia Fla. whose subject was, "Woman's Part in our Rebellion." He was a graceful speaker and made a most excellent address. He paid a high tribute to the part played by women in that terrible war.

The next oration was pronounced by Edward Bowman Espenshade of Lancester. His subject was, "The New Education". He spoke of the great advantage of a technical education. His speech was a strong argument for the industrial or scientific school. It was well delivered in every particular.

"A Glance at the Twentieth Century" was the subject of the next oration by Harry Groff Huber of Greensburg an easy and accomplished speaker. Among other things he spoke of the rapid advancements being made in science and manufacturing. The cost of the necessaries are rapidly decreasing. Luxeries are getting to be more and more within the reach of the poorer classes. He closed with a plea that we look on the bright side of everything. "What comes will come, lets make the best of it."

The next speaker was Frank Andrew Kaiser of Wilkesbarre who spoke on "Commercialism." He discussed the rapid growth of the commercial power of this country in an interesting manner.

The Valedictory address was next on the program and was delivered by Charles Alvin Brown of McKeesport. It was an interesting and well delivered address and at the request of many of our readers we publish it in full. It was as follows:

VALEDICTORY,

On a beautiful Spring morning, a little over four hundred years ago, a poor, gray-haired man, his head bowed with discouragement almost to the back of his mule, rode slowly out through the beautiful gateway of the Alhambra. From boyhood he had been haunted with the idea that the earth is round. He believed that the piece of carved wood picked up four hundred miles at sea and the bodies of two men unlike any other human beings known, found on the shores of Portugal, had dritted from unknown lands in the west. But his last hope of obtaining aid for a voyage of discovery had failed. King John, of Portugal, while pretending to think of helping him, had sent out secretly an expedition of his own.

He had begged bread and drawn maps and charts to keep him from starving; he had lost his wife; his friends had called him crazy, and forsaken him. The council of wise men, called by Ferdinand and Isabella, had ridiculed his theory of reaching the east by sailing west.

He left the Alhambra in despair, intending to offer his services to the King of England, but he heard a voice calling his name. An old friend had told Isabella that it would add great renown to her reign at a trifling expense if what the sailor believed should prove true. "It shall be done," said Isabella, "I will pledge my jewels to raise the money. Call him back."

Columbus turned, and with him turned the world. Not a sailor would go voluntarily, so the King and Queen compelled them. Three days out in his vessels, scarcely larger than fishing schooners, the Pinta floated a signal of distress for a broken rudder. Terror seized the sailors, but Columbus calmed their fears with pictures of gold and precious stones from India. Two hundred miles west of the Canaries the compass ceased to point to the North Star. The sailors are ready to mutiny, but again he quiets their fears with that ready tact which never forsook him. Twenty-three hundred miles from home, though he tells them it is but seventeen hundred, a bush with berries floats by, land birds fly near, and they pick up a piece of wood curiously carved. On October 12 Columbus raised the banner of Castile over the new world. At last, after years of toil, self-sacrifice, and suffering, success had crowned his efforts and a new world was thrown open to the nations.

What is difficulty for, but to teach the necessity of redoubled exertion? Danger but to give us fresh courage? Impossibilities but to inspire us to the enforcement of victory?

Perseverence built the great pyramids on Egypt's plains, erected the gorgeous temple at Jerusalem, enclosed in adament the Chinese Empire, scaled the stormy, cloud-capped Alps, opened a highway through the watery wilderness of the Atlantic, leveled the forests of the new world, and reared in their stead a community of states and nations. Perseverence has wrought from the marble block the exquisite creations of genius and painted on canvass the gorgeous mimicry of nature. Perseverence has put in motion millions of spindles, winged as many flying shuttles, harnessed thousands of iron steeds to as many freighted cars, and set them flying from town to town and nation to nation, tunnelled mountains of granite, and annihilated space with the lightning's speed. Perseverence has whitened the waters of the world with the sails of a hundred nations, navigated every sea and explored every land. Perseverence has reduced nature in her thousand forms to as many sciences, taught her laws, prophesied her future movements, measured her untrodden spaces, counted her myriad hosts of worlds, and computed their distances, dimensions and velocities. Ultimate success is the sure reward of well-directed perseverence.

Today the class of 1898 has reached the goal for which we set out four years ago. We have completed a small portion of our journey and the time has come when we must launch out on the sea of life where we shall meet still greater difficulties than we have heretofore faced, confident that the training we have received has made us better fitted to cope with those difficulties and to overcome them. But before we say the parting word, we feel that an expression of our thanks is due to those friends and companions who have encouraged us along the way.

Citizens of State College:—With feelings of great regret the class of '98 now bids you adieu. For four years we have been with you, sharing your generous hospitality, and receiving with thankfulness your kind words of encouragement. We shall ever cherish the memory of happy days spent among you. Hoping that you may manifest the same interest in our future success that you have in our past, and thanking you for the many favors extended to us, we bid you farewell.

Undergraduates:—Into your keeping we commit the honor and glory of our beloved Alma Mater. Her future is filled with the brightest hopes and the grandest possibilities. Let her success be your watchword and strive to hasten the time when the Pennsylvania State College shall be known throughout the length and breadth of the land. Although the work which lies before you may at times seem more than you can accomplish, rest assured that if you perform faithfully the tasks of the present you will find that the work of the future will be more easy of accomplishment than was at first deemed possible; that the mountain you saw in the beginning of your course is in reality nothing but a mole hill. And now wishing you every triumph in the future and bidding you God-speed in your labors, we bid you farewell.

Honored President and Professors:—It is with feelings of the deepest gratitude toward you that the class of '98 now leaves its Alma Mater. Yours has been the weary labor; ours the rich reward. You have worked faithfully with us in the class room and the laboratory, placing at our disposal every opportunity for the successful accomplishment of our several courses of study. We feel especially grateful for the privilege we have enjoyed of sitting at the feet of one whose kindly words of advice and whose efforts for our intellectual, moral and spiritual welfare, we hope, have not been without fruit. With a sincere acknowledgement and a lasting remembrance of the noble effort you have all made in our behalf, we bid you farewell.

Classmates:—We have trodden the way together and at last have attained the coveted goal. Our path has not been one entirely of roses; nor has it been one entirely of thorns. We have spent many happy hours together and now the time has come when we must part, when we must go forth to fight life's battles, each one for himself, to conquer or to be conquered. May the sacred ties of friendship which have formed among us, grow stronger day by day and year by year. May we cherish the memories of the days at dear old "State," and may those memories serve as an inspiration to still higher thoughts and nobler deeds, so that when the end shall come we may be able to look back upon a life well spent. Hoping that the future of the class of '98 may be as bright as her past has been glorious, I bid you farewell.

The annual address to the graduates was made by Hon. John Stewart who was introduced by President Atherton. The speaker was received with applause as he arose to speak.

"He said among other things, when the British prime minister arises to speak the whole world listens. Lord Salisbury said a few weeks ago we were confronted by two types of nations a rising and decadent one. This statement aroused world wide interest. Anyone of us might make this statement without exciting or affecting any one. He refered to this, to call attention to the difference in races. He refered to the Anglo-saxon and latin races. In the 16 th century the leading nation was Spain. She was mistress of one sixth of the world and her ships traveresed every sea. In the 17th century also the latin races held the supremacy. In the 18th century a new race appeared and took the lead and have held it ever since. It was the Anglo-saxon race. If asked, the greatest event in modern history he would say the rapid rise of the Anglo saxon race. Today this Anglo-saxon race numbers, 225,000,000 and rules 400,000,000 people. 100 years ago 10,000,000 more people spoke French than English. Today 50,000,000 more people speak English than French. 100 years ago six millions more people spoke Spanish than English today seventy million more people speak English than Spanish.

All things are possible with Providence but Providence works through man. What has caused the great rise of the anglo-saxon race? One thing was the gaining of North America by this race. Over one hundred million Anglo-saxon resides on this continent. One hundred and fifty years ago there was about one million Anglo-saxon scattered through these colonies. A sparse population with colonial government. The balance of the continent was under the domination of the latin race. The governing nation was the French who had outstriped the Spanish. Her capital was Quebec. She controlled five-sixths of this continent. Finally war broke out between the colonies and the French. There is nothing so tragic in history as this three year war. England's power was at a low ebb then, Walpole the premier was overthrown and a new manappeared and all things changed. He was devoted to the honor and welfare of his country. This man was the great commoner Wm. Pitt. He said we will settle the American question on the continent of Europe. To his efforts may be traced the beginning of the rise of the Anglo-saxon race He entered upon a warlike policy and the French were finally driven from the American continent.

That was the beginning of the rise of this race which has gone on until it holds the supremacy today. He closed by recounting the great achievements of the Anglo-saxon race and said that no one could set a limit to its future greatness.

The Honor men of the class of '98 are First honors—Louis L. Ansart. A. Frederick Blair, Charles Alvin Brown, Raymond Lewis, Addams S. *Mc*Allister, and Maybell Thompson; second honors—Edward B. Espenshade, Albert A. Gallaway, Joseph W. Gray, Frank A. Kaiser, Edward V. Rawn and Rufus T. Strohm.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When the tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

UNTIL recently it was believed that the entire population of the Spanish peninsula was ready to make any sacrifice to preserve the honor of the nation; but more lately trustworthy reports have shown that at no time has the war fever been widespread. Under the efficacious starvation treatment it has abated very rapidly. In spite of the law prohibiting the exportation of cereals from Spain, bread is rapidly growing scarcer in all parts of the country. Under the circumstances it seems only a question of time before the bread riots will be renewed with increased violence. If such proves to be the case the rioting may assume such form as to have a decided effect upon Spain's war policy. It is barely possible that the Spanish people instead of driving the people to a continuation of war, will compel a speedy ending of it. Americans, however, will not count upon such a contingency, but will continue to carry out their plans, just as if Spain had both the resources and inclination for long continued hostilities. But the scarcity of bread is likely to become a powerful factor in terminating the Spanish-American war.

For Over Fifty Years.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Sold by all druggists in all parts of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

SPANISH officials intimate that they do not intend to sue for peace and that they have resources to keep the war afloat for at least two years. Should they undertake to carry out such a foolish policy they would eventually find themselves stripped of the last of their colonial possessions, while some of their seaport cities would be badly shattered. Perhaps it is really true that "whom the gods wish to destroy they first make mad." At all events the surest present road to ruin for Spain lies in a persistent determination to continue a hopeless struggle.

Wedding Gowns; Materials; Styles In Making; Bridal Sets; Commencement Dresses; Traveling Dresses; Answers.

For wedding gowns, satin is almost the exclusive choice and for trimming, the selection lies between fine lace or chiffon, the latter being preferred in case of quite youthful brides and the two are not unfrequently combined with very pleasing effect. Necks are high as a rule, though some few brides have worn low neck, but such style is not considered good form. Sleeves of course are long and the great partiality for lace sleeves induces their use, but some light foundation is placed below. Mousquetaire or tucked satin sleeves are seen and elsewhere tucks are much employed because so fashionable in other dresses are sometimes made tight, but an appearance of fullness is given by garniture, nor would a full blouse be thought appropriate, so that in general, medium outlines are preferable. Trains either round or square, are of all lengths, from such as merely suggest the appendage, to an extreme example that rested on the floor a distance of four yards. The veil is of tulle or lace, oftener by far, the former and in such case is worn over the face until after the ceremony. Orange blossoms are most used, but lilies of the valley are in considerable favor.

BRIDAL SETS

begin at $12. for the three pieces and run up to almost fabulous prices, but in general, the leading shops do not exceed $50. the set. Ribbon and lace are the trimmings employed and nainsook is the material, though in sets higher priced than those quoted, it is replaced by linen lawn and expense increases according to the quality of lace and the addition of embroidery, which when done by hand, becomes very costly. Some gowns have very large collars, all have falls of lace over the shoulders and occasionally a jacket front appears. To meet the tastes of refined customers moreover, these dainty garments before being sent home, are delicately perfumed and for such purpose, nothing is found so choice as *M*urray & Lanman's Florida water. Every bride of position or well informed traveler has also in her outfit, a supply of this well known toilet water, since after exposure in the sun or during the fatigues of a journey, its refreshing qualities are beyond compare. For there is a rage for organdie, though a minority of dresses are of taffeta silk. Valenciennes lace is extremely fashionable as a finish to organdies and chiffon is used on taffeta dresses or may appear in combination with lace. Sashes are of silk trimmed with chiffon or if ribbon is used, the ends are trimmed. White is seen almost exclusively, some modistes declaring absolutely against colors, but now and then, a pink or blue dress is noticeable or colored ribbons may declare the wearer's independence. Gloves are white and short, because of long sleeves and shoes are usually white also, although black patent leather is quite admissible. Some in view of summer heats, are of mohair, but the greater number are of serge, covert cloth or mixed wool, with jacket that worn over a blouse waist, may be discarded upon occasion. Wealthy travelers are apt to choose fine, plain cloth which certainly is stylish and has an elegance all its own and with white linen collar and tie to match, speaks disdain for laundry bills, dust or mud. But the majority must do battle with an actual world and prefer something that shall withstand injury.

"T. T." Pretty shade hats for paizza wear, are wholly of white, pink or blue mousseline shirred and without a completion of flowers, but stylish ones have rather high crowns of colored straw, with plaited mousseline brims. Fine Leghorn straws are trimmed by rich assemblages of flowers or light material swathings.

"Dorothy." Broad styles in dressing the hair, are in as much vogue as ever and when the roll is not worn, the hair is still puffed or waved at the sides.

LUCY CARTER.

An Open Letter to Pennsylvania Mothers.

Amid the turmoil and stir of these days when omnious war-cloud over shadow the land, a work is in progress in the various camps of the nation which we are sure will appeal to the hearts of the mothers of this great commonwealth more than the movements of fleets or the tread of armed hosts. It is the work of the Young Men's Christian Association of Pennsylvania among the soldier boys gathered in the various camps to which they have been assigned. Six regiments of Pennsylvania troops are now at Chickamauga, four at Falls Church, and three with troops of cavalry here.

The Association has begun work here since April 28th, and is now on the ground at Chickamauga and Falls Church. The plan of operation here is simple, but has proven most effective. The Association tent and workers are settled down in the midst of hundreds of white tents which dot Gretna's beautiful camp-grounds. The tents, which will hold five or six hundred men, is equipped with benches, chairs, organ, music books, newspapers and games for the accommodation of the soldiers. Paper and envelopes, pens and ink are also furnished for letter-writing. Everything is provided gratis for the soldiers. Postage stamps are sold at "Uncle Sam's" prices.

The "boys" are great letter-writers. The many rainy days beget thoughts of home, and the home-longing soon finds expression in the home letter. The strength and tenderness of home ties among these thousands of young men is nowhere more strikingly seen than in the hundreds of quiet letter-writers who daily bend over the tables intent upon what is to them the most attractive duty of camp life. Wherever their services may be in days to come, there is no question as to where their hearts are. We are told that when the camp was full from 15000 to 19000 letters were daily sent out from the Mount Gretna post office.

At 7 30 P. M. the large tent is cleared or the Gospel meeting which is held every evening, preceeded by a brief song service in which the men join with marked spirit and interest. The strains of "Nearer my God to Thee" floating out in the hush of evening over the quiet camp, are in restful contrast to the hubbub of drum, fife and bugle during the busy hours of day. Following the song service, comes a brief, pointed Gospel Talk, with an earnest appeal to the attentive hearers to accept Jesus Christ as the great Captain of their Salvation.

Great blessing has attended these efforts. More than two hundred men have accepted Christ in this camp, and hundreds of others have been touched and convicted of sin. The scenes in some of these meetings have been most impressive. In one of them nearly sixty men stood up in definite decision for Christ, while many of the hearers bowed with sobs and tears under the tender influence of Gospel songs. In this and many other services the power of the Spirit of God was sensibly and graciously present, and the work manifestly proven to be of God.

Beside the public preaching of the Word there has been a great deal of personal work, the workers dealing with individuals in their own tents. The Pennsylvania Bible Society has also done a great and effective work in the distribution of thousands of testaments by their agent here. They have made the Y, M C. A. tent their headquarters. Every man in the camp without a testament has been supplied by this society, and it is a common sight to see men—both saved and unsaved—sitting in their tents carefully reading the Book of books.

The entire work has won its way to the hearts of the men to a most gratifying extent. "I have been greatly blessed at your meetings," "This Y. M. C. A. is a God-send," "I have been a better man since I came here," "We want you to go with us, and stay with us, "Will you go with us to the Philippines?" These and kindred expressions of good will greet us daily from every quarter.

And now a few salient features of this movement which we beg to present for the prayerful consideration of the mothers of these soldier boys are:

FIRST—The great opportunity: There are seasons when men's hearts seem especially tender to the influences of the Gospel. This is one of them. The seriousness of war has begotten seriousness in spiritual matters. Seed which has been falling from the hands of faithful sowers for years past—often with but little apparent result—is now germinating. Absence from home and loved ones, war's uncertainties and alarms, the sight of departing regiments, farewells to comrades in arms, the gross temptations of camp life—all these and more are bringing the men to the crises evaded for years past—the crises of decision. Hence this army Christian work is big with possibilities of blessing that may never again come into the lives of these men if not now laid hold upon. "Redeeming the time"—"Buying up the opportunities" is surely the urgent truth for these days.

SECOND—The Home Influences: Let them—above all things—be for spiritual blessing to the men. Letters from home, furnishing as they do a calendar of the daily happenings, are welcome to the soldier boys as never before in their lives. But it were a grievious mistake indeed, in the face of this priceless spiritual opportunity, to fill them with nothing else than the daily chit-chat of current local events. Not that we would discourage newsiness, but we would exalt faithfulness to the deepest interest of the soldier boy's life at this time. Write to him freely, fully, loveingly and earnestly about his own soul's salvation. He will receive it for he is thinking about this as perhaps never before.

Sad indeed would it be to let the daily letters wing their way to camp with no spiritual message to the hearts now so open to it. Do not let the stream of gossip run through the pages broader and fuller than the river of life, lest you some day have cause for bitter, but unavailing regret. Strong, true, prayer-begotten letters, such as every true mother can and should write, may under God accomplish now what years of ordinary effort have failed to do. As a Christian Captain here has put it, in a strong homely figure—"If our friends at home could only understand how much good is being done here, I am sure that much of the money spent in sending cakes and pies to the boys, would go instead to the support of something which is of far greater benefit to them—i e the religious work of the Y. M. C. A. amongthem."

THIRD—The Power of Prayer: As we have witnessed the mighty moving of God's Spirit upon these young men gathered here, we have found ourselves inquiring "What is the secret of the manifested power and presence of God in this soldier's camp?" Without question the prayers of Christian mothers. Probably no place in this great state has been blessed as has this camp for the past few weeks, and simply because none has been prayed for as this.

Why is it that one man is old and decrepid at 45, and another hale and hearty at 80? It depends on the care he takes of himself. Often a man's body gets out of repair—the trouble grows until it lays him out in bed. Whenever a man feels that he is not as well as he ought to be, whenever he is listless, without energy and without vitality, whenever he finds that he is loosing weight and that his ordinary work gives him undue fatigue, he needs Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If he keeps on working with his liver inactive and his blood impure—he keeps his nerves and his body under a constant nervous strain. He will not be hearty when he is old. The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures many so-called diseases because nearly all illness springs from the same things—bad digestion and consequent impure blood. The "Discovery" makes the appetite good, the digestion strong, assimilation easy, and the blood rich and pure.

HOME FROM A VISIT!

Governor Hastings and Party Return to Harrisburg.

VISITED THE VARIOUS CAMPS

Only Eight Serious Cases of Sickness in All the Pennsylvania Regiments. A Great Lacking in Arms and Uniforms.

WAS WELL RECEIVED EVERYWHERE

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 18.—Governor Hastings and party returned Friday from a tour of the Pennsylvania troops in the south. They visited the camps at Chickamauga and Falls Church, Na., and batteries A and C at Newport News. The governor had arranged to inspect the Third regiment at Tampa, but when he reached Chattanooga he was informed that the troops were already on transports for Santiago and that he could not see them. Much to his surprise yesterday he was informed by Secretary of War Alger that the regiment had disembarked. Had he known this a day earlier he would have gone to Tampa. The governor saw every man in every Pennsylvania command at Chickamauga, Falls Church and Newport News and requested the commanding officer of each company to furnish him the name and address of every family in the state that is suffering by reason of their support going to war. He brought with him the names of a considerable number of those who need assistance. These are considered confidential and will be furnished to the Pennsylvania sanitary commission and by that body to the local relief organizations through the state. The governor also arranged with the commanders of all the Pennsylvania organizations in the field to furnish him from time to time with the names of the families of soldiers that need support and they will be taken care of as long as they are in service. If any family represented by a Pennsylvania soldier in the field comes to want or distress it will be because the soldier himself will not make it known confidentially to his commanding officer.

The health of the Pennsylvania troops is uniformly good. There is very little sickness in any of the camps. The governor did not find over eight serious cases in all the Pennsylvania regiments. Of course there is the usual percentage of slight illness from over eating, over exertion and similar causes. All have been vaccinated and there are many more arms. The army ration gives general satisfaction. The governor did not hear a single complaint about food in any of the camps.

The water supply at Chickamauga is excellent and of a good quality. Water for drinking and cooking purposes at Camp Alger seems to be fairly plentiful, and there is no lack of good water at Newport News. None of the regiments as yet have been fully equipped. Arms are lacking and in many cases uniforms and equipments which are promptly distributed to the troops. Pennsylvania soldiers do not suffer by comparison with the troops of other states. Daily drill for a month has worked a wonderful change. The men have settled down to the daily routine of a soldier's life. They are winning their way, and when hostilities begin in earnest they will uphold the honor of the Keystone state.

The governor was received with great enthusiasm among the officers and men in the camps of the south. The Pennsylvania soldiers were glad to see him and listen to his kind words of advice. He was shown much attention by the commanding officers at Camps Alger and Thomas and was assured by them that his visit will stimulate the Pennsylvania soldiers to even greater activity than was heretofore shown.

The governor was accompanied by Senator J. Henry Cochran, of Williamsport, member of the national and state sanitary commission; Colonel Wilbur F. Reeder, of Bellefonte, assistant adjutant general; Colonel Thomas, Potter of Philadelphia, assistant quartermaster general; Private Secretary Lewis E. Beitler and George M. Wanbaugh, newspaper correspondent.

Highwaymen on Wheels.

A wheelman of West 46th Street, New York, was not long since attacked, robbed and left senseless by two highwaymen mounted on bicycles in Central Park. Repeated accounts of robberies by men mounted upon the swift revolving wheel have appeared in the papers in various parts of the country. In each instance, so far as learned, they have evaded the police. Those depredators of the health, diseases of the kidneys and bladder, will likewise in all likelihood escape arrest, and pursue their atrocious career unchecked, unless they are arrested in the outset by the potent intervention of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the finest diuretic, as well as tonic, known to modern times. The genial preventive named is the best known medicinal safeguard not only against renal, but also rheumatic and malarial disorders. It is at the start tha disease is the more easily and completely overcome. The use of the Bitters is followed by the happiest results in cases of dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint and nervousness.

Take Conditions Coolly

The constitutionally lazy man suffers most this hot weather. He can not find any temperature just right, so he frets, sweats and swears more while hunting shade and fighting flies than do the rest of us toilers who neither fret, sweat nor swear more than is consistent with existing surroundings. There are acres of comfort and gallons of satisfaction in being able to accept with a pretty good grace those unpleasant things we can not get away from.

AN OLD BULLY.

People who live in fear of his attacks.

How to avoid him or beat him off.

If biliousness isn't the bully of the body then what is? When once biliousness gets the upper hand you don't dare say your stomach is your own. "Don't you dare eat that dish says biliousness, or you'll see what I'll do." You take the dare and you do see or rather feel, the weight of the bully's revenge. The head aches, not a regular ache, but an open and shut ache. The eyes ache, not with a dull, tired ache, but with an agressive ache, as if they were being bored by a gimlet. The stomach trembles with nausea. "The whole head is sick and the whole heart is faint." There are scores of hundreds of people who live so under the dominion of this bully biliousness that they don't dare eat or drink without his permission. There's no need of such slavery. Dr. J. C. Ayer's Pills effectually cure biliousness.

"For fifteen years I have used Dr. J. C. Ayer's Pills, and find them very effective in all kinds of bilious complaints. They are mild in operation and easy to take. I prefer them to any other pill, and have yet to see the case where they have failed to cure."—A. SWANOSA, Texarkana, Ark.

"I have used Dr. J. C. Ayer's Pills in cases of biliousness and general disorders of the stomach and bowels and have found them to be always reliable. They are less liable to gripe than other purgatives, and although mild in action, they are thorough in operation. They are the best family physic that can be had."—PETER J. DUFFY, Rockport, Texas.

"Having used Dr. J. C. Ayer's Pills for years and thoroughly tested them, both as a preventive and cure for biliousness, I can truthfully say that I believe them to be the best medicine for the purpose and they do all that is claimed for them."—JNO. E. KOLB, Shark, Ark.,

Biliousness is in general but a symptom of a more stubborn disorder, constipation. Constipation is the root of almost all physical evils, and Dr. J. C. Ayer's Pills cure almost all these physical evils by going to the root. They cure constipation, and the consequent maladies, biliousness, heartburn, palpitation, shortness of breath, sleeplessness, nervous irritability, foul breath, coated tongue, and a score of other miserable maladies that have their origin in constipation. Dr. Ayer's Pills are the surest and safest remedy for all diseases of the liver, stomach, and bowels. Send for Dr. Ayer's Curebook and read the story of cures told by the cured. Free. Address the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

THE FALL OF MANILA!

Dewey's Official Report Indicates End of Spanish Power.

PUSHED TO THE WALL

Augusti Sends Word to Madrid That He Was Being Pushed to the Last Extremity—Dewey Has an Understanding With the Insurgent Leader.

SPANIARDS ARE UTTERLY EXHAUSTED

CAMP OF THE UNITED STATES MARINES, OUTER HARBOR OF GUANTANAMO, Tuesday, June 14.—8. p. m.—via Kingston. Jamaica, June 15.—4. p. m.—The United States marines under Lieut.-Col. Robert W. Huntington, made their first aggressive movement against the Spanish guerrillas today and completely routed the enemy.

The forces of marines was under Capt. Elliott and the co-operating Cubans were under Col. Luborda. The combined forces razed a Spanish camp about five miles from the American position, destroyed the only well in the vicinity and killed about forty Spaniards. One American marine was slightly wounded. Two Cubans were killed and four were wounded.

It is impossible to estimate the number of Spaniards engaged, owing to their guerrilla methods of fighting. But it is believed there were at least 400.

The marines behaved splendidly, their marksmanship being excellent even under the severe fire of the enemy.

The Americans began a cautious advance and were within 200 yards of the enemy before the crack of a rifle from the Spanish lines announced that the Spaniards had discovered them.

The troops quickly moved into line of battle, with the Cubans on the left flank. The enemy's bullets were whirling viciously over the Americans, but the marines settled down to their work as though at target practice. Very few Spaniards were in sight. They were laying behind the huts and in the brush, but the puffs of smoke revealed their position and enabled the Americans to do effective work. For twenty minutes both sides maintained a terrific fire.

As the enemy began breaking from the camp the Dolphin, which lay out at sea, was signaled and began pitching shells towards the thicket for which the Spaniards were making. Meanwhile Lieut. Magill was seen coming with forty men as reinforcements and Capt. Mahony was on the way with a hundred more, but before either could reach the scene the trouble was over.

As the Spanish retreated the Americans moved slowly foward, firing as they went, and by the time the camp was reached the enemy had all got away, taking their wounded and probably many of their dead. Fifteen bodies were found scattered through the bush, but the Americans were enable to examine the spot where the firing had been the most deadly. No time was lost in burning the buildings and filling the well with earth and stones.

Col. Huntington believes the destruction of the camp and well, will seriously cripple the bushwhacking operation of the enemy. The party also captured a hundred Mauser rifles and 10,000 rounds of ammunition.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, June 16.—Off Santiago de Cuba, on Monday night, the dynamite guns of the Vesuvius were tested with great seccess. Three shots were fired at the Spanish fortifications and it is believed great damage was done,

On Tuesday morning the New Orleans shelled and partially drstroyed the new emplacements east of Morro Castle.

The Spaniards fired some shots at the Vesuvius and one at the New Orleans, which was struck.

GUANTANAMO BAY, June 17.—The brick fort and earth works at Caimanera at the end of the railroad leading to the city of Guantanamo, were demolished Yesterday by the bombardment of the Texas, Marblehead and Suwanee. The warships opened fire at 2 p. m. and the bombardment lasted. one hour and thirty minutes.

The Texas steamed slowly up the channel leading to the fortifications, followed closely by the Marblehead. The Texas fired two shots as range finders, both falling short and to the right. The Marblehead stood off to the west side of the channel and opened with her five-inch guns on the fort, knocking down part of the wall. The Texas then threw in some 12-inch shells, tearing down the wall of the fort and throwing the bricks and morter thirty feet in the air. After badly damaging the fort the Marblehead stood further in to shell the earthworks and barracks at the west end of the harbor. She knocked them into the air, and when the Spaniards fled from the fort they were shelled by the St. Paul and driven into the bushes.

The Spaniards fired only five shots, which did no damage. After the ships stood out into the harbor, the Spaniards in the bushes opened fire on the Marblehead's launch, which replied vigorously. The Suwanee then turned back and shelled the bushes, driving the Spaniards inland.

GUANTANAMO BAY, Friday, June 17.—However unpleasant the experiences or unjustified by precedent, the landing of a small detachment of marines, mostly raw men in the enemy's country, has taugh some lessons to the officers and men here, and possibly also to the authorities at Washington.

It has shown the Spaniards to be daring bush fighters, and it has proved that every American camp must be compactly built and as well protected to resist night attacks as though in the Apache country. It has developed several small defects in the navy guns under service conditions, and it has shown that given a free rein with repeating rifles, 500 nervous troops can wast 10,000 rounds of ammunition, killing shadows in a single night, and not think even then that they have done much shooting.

Though the sixteen dead Spaniards found by Lieutenant Neville's men wore regular uniforms, most of those seen in the daylight attacks wore scarcely anything but big plantain leaves bound around their foreheads in lieu of hats. This acted as an effective disguise in the bush. Others stripped to a pair of dirt-colored trousers, tied branches around their waists, reaching shoulders high and moving very cautiously they could even cross open ground without being detected, though some of them were caught at the game. Another trick was to make a moving screen of two or three big palm leaves, almost impossible to detect where stunted palm everywhere rises out of the chapparal.

The Cuban auxiliaries were most useful in pointing out these tricks. There are sixty of these men now in camp, mostly negroes with Cuban officers. They are hawk-eyed woodsmen, breaking even with the Spaniards in every device of bush craft. The American marines at first were inclined to discount this, but this morning they spoke enthusiastically of the auxiliaries for their daring. At night, in skirmish time, the marines say the Cuban auxiliaries go through the brush like rabbits. Their chief fault, however, is their reckless handling of the new magazine rifles.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18.—The navy department has received the following from Admiral Dewey:

There is little change in the situation since my telegram of June 3. Insurgents continue hostilities and have practically surrounded Manila. They have taken 2,500 Spanish prisoners, whom they treat most humanely. They do not intend to take the city at the present time. Twelve merchant vessels are anchored in the bay with refugees on board, under guard of neutral men-of-war; this with my permission.

"The health of the squadron continues excellent. The German commander-in-chief arrived to-day. Three German, two British, one French, one Japanese men-of-war now in port. Another German man-of-war is expected. The following is a correct list of the Spanish vessels captured and destroyed: "Destroyed—Two protected cruisers, five unprotected cruisers, one transport, one serving vessel, both armed.

"The following were captured: The transport Manila and the gunboat Callao."

Admiral Dewey's report was food for a good deal of discussion to-day at the navy department. Taken in connection with the press reports it would seem to indicate that Manila probably has fallen by this time. One phrase used by the admiral that "they do not intend to take the city at the present time," warrants the belief that he has reached a perfect understanding with the insurgent leader and that the town is not to be attacked until his own troops arrive. For some reason it is extremely desirable that such should be the case, and that Dewey should receive the surrender of the town in person, rather than force the Spaniards to surrender to the insurgents and thereby afford a possible pretext for the interference of some of the European powers, whose ships are gathering in suspiciously large numbers in Manila bay.

MADRID, June 18.—The following dispatch from Manila, signed by Gen. Augusti and dated June 13, is published officially.

"The grave situation set forth in my dispatch of June 8 continues. The troops are fighting on the line of blockhouses which stops the enemy's advance. The enemy has been strengthened by desertions of the native troops, which diminish our means of resistence and may compel me to take refuge within the walled city.

"Communication with the provinces is still cut and I do not know whether the detachments there will be able to hold out against a lack of resources.

"I hope to receive assistance from the peninsula before our means of defense are exhausted."

LONDON, June 18.—The Hong Kong correspondent of the times says: "According to Manila advices, dated June 13, and brought here by H. M. S. Linnet, the rebels have captured the family of Capt. Gen. Augusti.

"In most cases the desertions of the native regiments have been accompanied by a massacre of the officers.

"It is reported from Shanghai that the Spanish archbishop from Manila has arrived there by the German troop ship Darmstadt."

Wheat's Sudden Tumble.

The sudden slump in the prices of wheat has caught many of our farmers. In several cases it is know that farmers refused $1 36 a bushel a few weeks ago, in the hope that higher prices would prevail. During the beginning of last week some of them attempted to dispose of their cereal at $1 a bushel, after it became known that prices were declining, but they were unable to do so. It was learned this morning that there is in the aggregate about 4,000 bushels in the vicinity of Salona that will cause a serious loss. The price today is down to eighty-five cents, and the outlook is not very bright for a further rise. In other parts of the county it is reported that there is a large quantity of wheat still held by the farmers.

Corn in this county is selling at thirty cents and oats at twenty five cents.

It is not known exactly how the fire started, but, some children were playing with fire crackers and it may have caught from this.

AND STILL ANOTHER!

Crack Bellefonte Academy Team Defeated Mackeyville

IN THE DECIDING GAME OF SERIES

And thus Wins a Clear Claim to the Title of Champions of Central Pennsylvania Green's Masterly Twirling—Red Hot Game With Total Only Nine Runs.

LAST GAME ON TUESDAY JUNE 21

The crack Bellefonte Academy team won a clear title to the championship of Central Penna., Friday afternoon, when they defeated the strong Mackeyville—Lock Haven professional aggregation at Hecla Park before a large number of rooters. The game was exciting from start to finish and was not won until the last man was put out. Brilliant plays were the order of the day and the "schoolboys" completely outplayed their older opponents Mackeyville was determined to win and imported two crack professionals from Lock Haven to help them along towards victory. They also counted on winning on account of the absence of two of the Academy's players who could not play on account of examinations, but they counted in vain for Green, the boy with sunset hair from Milesburg, proved a stumbling block that they couldn't surmount. He pitched an excellent game, had good control and was supported in league fashion by his field with the exception of the first inning.

Mackeyville started to win the game right at the start, scoring three runs on a combination of hits, to atrocious errors and general baloon work by the Academy. Green then settled down and the professionals were shut out for seven innings. In the eighth they managed to send a man across the rubber on base on balls and Smull's 3 cushion shot.

The "champs" didn't figure in the run column until the third inning when two runs were scored on good clean batting. In the sixth two more were scored making the game a tie 4 to 4.

Miller scored the winning run in the ninth with one man out on a scratch hit by Gephart.

This victory wins the series from Mackeyville and leaves the Academy with eleven straight victories, as scalps dangling from their belts.

The score follows:

The Logan Picnic.

The 29th annual picnic of the Logan Steam Fire Engine Company was held at beautiful Hecla Park along the line of the Central Railroad, Friday June 17th. The Milesburg Fire Company were also present joining with their Bellefonte brothers in having a good time.

On Thursday night previous to the picnic, the Logans gave a grand street parade, the finest seen in Bellefonte for some time. In the procession were the Milesburg band; Citizens Fire Company of Milesburg; Coleville band, Logan Steam Fire Engine Company with hook and ladder truck and steam fire engine. Along the line of parade beautiful fire works' were set off which added to the success of the occasion.

The day at the park was enlivened by dancing, boating, bicycle racing, foot races and an interesting ball game between the Bellefonte Academy and Mackeyville. It was hotly contested and resulted in a victory for the Academy by the score of 5 to 4.

FIRE AT MILESBURG.

Two Dwelling Houses Totally Destroyed Sunday Morning.

Early Sunday morning the fire fiend visited our sister town of Milesburg and before it was under control had destroyed two large frame dwelling houses situated near the Pennsylvania depot.

It broke out about 1 oclock in the residence of Jacob Crider. Mr. Crider was ill and his wife had just been up preparing some medicine for him when the smell of smoke attracted her attention and she discovered the fire. The discovery was made just in the nick of time and Mr. Crider and his family had a narrow escape with their lives.

The citizens fire company of Milesburg was soon on the scene and worked with a will but their efforts were unable to save the building. The fire spread to the adjoining residence owned and occupied by Samuel B. Meyers and both houses were totally destroyed together with all their furniture.

The total loss is estimated at $3500,00. The insurance is as follows: Samuel B. Meyers, $1,000 on house and $500, on furnitnre. Jacob Crider, $1,000 on house and $500 on furniture.

The origin of the fire is said to have been from a defective flue.

Death of Samuel Delige.

For the past three months Samuel Delige, one of Bellefonte's oldest colored citizens has been on the sick list. His illness was due to the gradual breaking down of the system incident to old age. The deceased was in his 78 year. He leaves five children, four girls and one boy to mourn his loss. Uncle Sam as he was generally called was a familiar figure in Bellefonte and well liked by everyone. He was an industrious hard working man as long as he was able to be around.
